

Agnes Broomfiller's 'I Learned a New Word!' Story

My friend, Agnes, loves to learn new words. In fact, every morning when she wakes up, she sets a goal of learning five new words each day. She just loves expanding her vocabulary!

Agnes would like you to learn some new words, too. Today, she would like you to learn eight of them. You will find them below. Once you read them, Agnes would like you to get a dictionary and write the definitions for them..

Once you are done writing the definitions, Agnes would like you to write a three-paragraph story that uses all eight of the new words. Do you think you can do it? And now, here are the words:

Augment:

Eschew:

Filch:

Extenuating:

Ludicrous:

Exfoliate:

Bruxism:

Congeval

Now on to your story!
